

Lean Leadership Academy

How long does it take? The Academy programme is typically over 6 months, as this helps embed the new practises in the organisation.

This starts with an executive alignment programme over 2-3 days to get the plan in place and have commitment for the programme. Here you will work with our specialist trainers, coaches and mentors for business change.

Then over the next 6 months you will be supported by a series of workshops to ensure your business understands and implements a successful Lean Programme, embedding this into your culture.

What next? We will be very happy to discuss your business requirements with a one-one visit at your premises. Please call us on 0845 838 6748 for more details.

About us Our specialist trainers have been involved in Lean Implementation in some of the largest manufacturing companies in and outside of the UK. Their knowledge of what works in the delivery of a successful Lean programme will be directed into your business during the programme. This is a partnership that will get you sustained results in your organisations growth.

Delivering Organisational Change

"The leadership section was very powerful in relation to the audience. The case studies enabled me to connect Lean with my environment"

The Lean Leadership Academy offers a wide range of support to your business improvements including:

- Executive Alignment to the improvement drive, covering the strategic vision to delivery.
- Detailed training for your selected employees on the Tools and Techniques, to embed into your organisation.
- On-going support and mentorship to the main catalysts for change within your organisation.

You will have access to a unique suite of workshops, material and support to help guide your organisation through the "Lean Journey".

Coupled with expert facilitation, training and coaching will help the whole organisation to understand the changes they need to make in order to maximise the impacts of the Lean drive.

"Not a Big Bang - more of a series of small planned, safe and controlled detonations"

Our experienced coaches will work with the senior management team over the programme to ensure you have the support you need (remember, we have already been there). We are there on your journey with you...

Based on Results Initially development for Manufacturing areas of industry, organisations were surprised to know that even in Manufacturing companies, approximately 80% of the lead-time (time of order placement to fulfilment) on a product delivery to a customer is consumed by non-manufacturing processes e.g. Sales office, Procurement, Engineering, Quality Control, Dispatch etc.

It was found that as it is the lead-time that drives customers ordering policy, applying lean to all processes often brings far more customer satisfaction than to only focus on the manufacturing process.

Now seen as the most effective method of achieving cost savings and process improvements, the Lean techniques are now used in many other industries such as Financial, Service, Call Centres, Public Sectors and Support Industries, who are all keen to gain the advantages of such techniques in their businesses.

Here to support One of the unique aspects of the Lean Leadership Academy is it's support in helping you create an effective support network.

This will help your organisation to enable:

- The creation of communication links with other business people in the same situation as you are.
- Discussion forums to share best practice.
- Learn from others that can impart experience of success and learning.

Increase bottom line results • Remove non-value added process, saving time and money • Support over (and after) the Lean programme
Increase customer service levels • Learn from World Class Best Practice • Fully aligned change structure in your organisation • Get better results in less time
